

Saving You

It was never my job to save you.

When you needed to learn to save yourself

And in saving you, I abandoned myself.

I was now the one who needed saving

Everything I was,

Was given to you

I was left an empty vessel

After pouring myself all out to you

I had to crawl out of my own depths

But no one could save me,

I knew –

But myself
